EPA starts cleanup

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

The cleanup of 1.5 million tons of toxic cyanide-tainted film chips on Harrison Road in Romulus began last week when the United States Environmental Protection Agency moved in to assess the situation and decide on the best course of action to remove the substance from the site, located behind 10100 Harrison.

The EPA has been unable to come to terms with the prior tenants of PBM Enterprises as to who will handle the cost of the removal and process. The former partners in PBM are Richard Pint, Frank Bykowski, Edward Martin and John Krohmer, according to landlord William Matakas.

Matakas, who is currently in the midst of a court battle with PBM for damages and to get the site cleaned and usable once again, said Friday that he was informed earlier that day that the EPA may even hold him financially responsible.

"The problem I have," Matakas said, "is that the government has put my name in there with PBM, and suddenly they're telling me I should take the costs, the entire thing."

"Not only does that seem unfair, but I question the constitutionality of it as well," said Matakas, an attorney.

Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally said she was "pleased that some action is being taken, after all, we contacted everyone from state representatives to congressmen."

McAnally said that she has heard nothing about city-related costs in the cleanup, and she also isn't quick to take things for granted. "When the whole mess is taken care of, when it's out of Romulus, then I'll consider the matter finished. I've seen many things started that don't get finished."

McAnally also voiced her concerns about what will happen to the 17 trailers that now store the plastic film chips. "Who knows what could happen...those trailers that contain toxic materials could end up on an auction block and be hauling lettuce to our local grocery stores. I'd like to see them destroyed."

City readies to open parks

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus parks, including controversial Kennedy Park, may be reopened this week.

A special committee has come up with recommendations for better control and patrol of city parks. Mayor Beverly McAnally, Parks and Recreation Director Debbie Dick, Police Chief Donald Flood and many other concerned citizens had input into the new regulations, which had their second and final reading at Monday's council meeting.

According to city charter, the new rules take effect upon posting, and that, according to Mayor-Pro-Tem Mary Ann Banks, is when the parks open for the year.

"I'd like them posted as soon as possible," Banks said, "and I'd like to see the recreation department act as quickly as they can." Banks added that she would like to see signs designating each park by name.

Dick, who was in attendance, told the council "you can't include everything (on the postings) or you'll have a book." She then asked Banks to arrange a special meeting for council to decide what should be included in the posting and

City of Romulus shall be closed between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m., April 1 through Oct. 31, and between the hours of 6 p.m. and 6 a.m., Nov. 1 through March 31, except the Recreation Director shall be entitled to provide special exceptions thereto for City-sponsored functions and notice of such special exceptions shall be provided to the Police Department by the Recreation Department at least 24 hours prior to said special events.

Use of Intoxicants: It shall be unlawful for any intoxicated persons to enter, be or remain in the city park system, except as stated below:

Neighborhood Parks: It shall be unlawful for any person to bring within, sell, possess, give away or drink any intoxicating liquor, beer, or wine in the Neighborhood Parks, in part due to unsanitary conditions caused by lack of lavatory facilities.

(1) Upon written application with the recommendation of the Director of Parks and Recreation, or his/her designee, the Clerk may issue a limited permit for discrete consumption of alcoholic beverages for family, social parties and recognized club activities. Said permit, if issued, shall be

"No one wants to see these parks opened quicker and run smoother than I do."

- Debbie Dick

how the wording should be phrased.

"We can't get the signs made until you get us that information," she said.

Banks indicated she would see to it that action would be quick.

Earlier in the day, Dick had expressed hope that all of the parks could be opened at the same time, as soon as weather permitted, "which just isn't possible now," she said, adding that "no one wants to see these parks opened quicker and run smoother than I do."

Kennedy Park was closed several months ago, when some members of council and residents of the area complained of under-age drinking, urinating in public and drug use and sales.

"I can't even have a barbecue," one homeowner said at the meeting, which resulted in closing Kennedy Park in a temporary basis, "without my wife or kids or whoever happens to be visiting watching these kids going to the bathroom."

One of the new regulations includes a definition between "community parks" and "neighborhood parks." Elmer Johnson, Henry Ruff and Fernandez parks are designated as community parks, with all others tagged neighborhood parks, including Kennedy.

Other changes which will affect to be more family oriented, are:

Hours: All parks within the subject to the rules, regulations and restrictions imposed by the Department of Parks and Recreation.

Disorderly Conduct: No person or group of persons shall indulge in any drunken, loud, boisterous, disorderly or indecent conduct, nor shall any person or group of persons engage in any activity endangering, annoying or embarrassing other persons, or disturb the peace and tranquility or good order of the community within and surrounding any City park.

Loitering: It shall be unlawful for any person to loiter, stand or idle in or about parking areas and parking lots.

Obstructing City Employees: No person shall interfere with or in any manner hinder any employee of the City while such employee is engaged on constructing, repairing or caring for any park property, or fail or refuse to obey any lawful order of personnel of the Department of Parks and Recreation.

In addition, at Kennedy Park, parking will no longer be allowed on Goddard Road, but, according to Dick, there will be space provided for "four or maybe five cars" along Ozga Road.

Violation of these regulations, which Flood said would be policed more vigorously, can result in a fine of up to $500 and/or 90 days in jail.

Huron trustees question Ashby vote

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Is it ethical for a member of the Huron Township Trustees, who also holds the police commissioner position to vote on his own motions particularly, when he is granted permission to vote last and said motion involves a promotion for the commissioner's brother?

That is the question of the hour in Huron Township, where, at the last regular board meeting, Fred Ashby who was appointed to the volunteer post at the previous meeting was granted permission by Supervisor Ralph Dugan to withhold his vote until last.

The motion was to promote two officers to sergeant and also hire two new full-time officers.

Citing "an obvious conflict of interest, at least morally if not legally," Township Clerk Vicki Lyons led the dissenters, who also included long-time board member Bill Geierman and Township Treasurer Christine Gamber. Ayes included Dugan, Gary Bates, Joe Prater and finally Ashby himself, which carried the motion.

According to Lyon's the township attorney ruled that as long as Ashby himself did not gain in a monetary fashion there was no law broken.

The two promoted men are Harold Ashby, Ashby's brother who ran for supervisor and was defeated by Dugan, and John Cady, a long-time Huron police officer.

Lyons later noted what she called an ironic state of affairs for the police department.

"Before he was made commissioner, he said his main concern was to stop the talking behind people's backs and to which made no sense under the circumstances -- keep politics out of the police department."

"There was no testing done, the third man qualified wasn't even considered for the post," Lyons said.

"We now have a police department with four sergeants and only one patrolman."

There are also eight part-time police officers in the city and while not committing to it, Ashby did say that he hoped to pick the two new full-timers out of those ranks.

Ashby defends his actions by stating that his brother has been a member of the force for more than 20 years and Cady for "about 15." Ashby said the other officer has only "a few years experience."

"I can't kick him (Harold Ashby) over in a corner just because he's my brother. My plan is to have at least one sergeant on each shift, because if there's two patrolmen out and a situation came up which needed immediate action, they may be unsure of what to do without that leadership," Ashby said.

"I'm not running the police department -- it runs itself. I'm there to oversee and administer the department. I love this community, and I want to see it get the best possible police department."

Treasurer Gamber said later

Surplus cheese

Surplus cheese, butter and flour will be distributed to needy Romulus families from noon to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the Wayne Metropolitan Services Agency, 35408 Beverly in Romulus.

Volunteers from the American Progressive Association of Romulus will handle the distribution. Proof of need and residency is required. Further information can be obtained by calling 728-7510.

that "some members of the board are saying to give him (Ashby) a chance, but I say not anymore. I can't understand why Dugan even allowed him to vote last like that."

"Legally he had the right, but morally I question it. I never would have done it, it just doesn't seem right at all," Gamber said.

Ashby, who has been a trustee for eight years and has experience as a policeman himself, defended his requesting -- and getting -- the tie-breaking vote by saying later that I'm not going to let something be thrown away (the motion), if I believe in it. I'm not going to be a rubber stamp for anyone, I'll vote with what I believe is best for the people.

One of the dissenting voters said in a telephone interview that prior to the meeting, Dugan had mentioned the promotions and new hirings.

"I looked at him and said 'What? I didn't know we had voted on that yet?' He just smiled, but it was obvious to me that they had talked it over previously," something Ashby denied.

"To the best of my knowledge, there were no discussions about anyone would vote," Ashby said.

According to both Lyons and Gamber, citizens are extremely upset by the action, and both claim to have had numerous phone calls from irate residents. Ashby says he has heard nothing negative at all.

"I think this will cause many more problems and create more dissent than it will help," said Lyons, adding that "it makes me sick. I didn't think we were that corrupt."

Gamber added: "You know what they say, blood is thicker than water..."

Police investigate double homicide

Two men were found shot to death on California Street in Romulus April 6 after the car they were in was reported as being abandoned vehicle in the sparsely-housed neighborhood.

David C. Stanley, 28, and Van Hooper, 24, both of Taylor, were killed by multiple gunshots to the head, according to police. Stanley was found in the front seat and Hooper in the back seat, according to reports.

According to police, a small quantity of suspected cocaine was found in the vehicle, a black Volvo. According to Flood, the victims were found at approximately 5 p.m. on Saturday, April 6, "which meant the murders took place either late that Friday night or in the early hours of Saturday."

"It looks like it may have been drug-related," a spokesman for the Romulus Police said.

Anyone with any knowledge of the situation are asked to contact the Romulus Police department at 941-8400.

Kiwanis stack 'em high

The Romulus Kiwanis Club will be holding another of their ever-popular pancake breakfast feasts from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Saturday, April 27, at Progressive Hall, located at 11580 Ozga Road near Five Points.

Citizens give City long Shopping List

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The Belleville City Council Monday night asked for and received a long shopping list to use as a guideline for spending anticipated funds from the Community Grant Program. Belleville is scheduled to receive approximately $70,000 for the fiscal year 1985.

Council heard from citizens and the business community whose top priority apparently is the employment of a professional city planning consultant who would become the engineer for a city revitalization and renaissance. Other considerations included: Cooperation with the Van Buren schools to construct a municipal tennis complex; improvement to streets, drains and the sewage system; demolition of vacant buildings.

David Hamilton, proprietor-owner of Hamilton Hardware Store on Main Street, urged council to consider employing a professional consultant.

"We need a consultant to oversee downtown development," Hamilton said. "One look at Main Street and people know we are in trouble. We need someone to come in on a full-time basis to help us rebuild this city."

Several residents and businessmen concurred with Hamilton.

John Hoops, a local businessman, suggested the money would be wisely spent if it was earmarked for storm drainage, "to stop the flooding in some sections of the city."

Michael Colletta, athletic director at Belleville High, asked council to consider a joint-venture with the schools to construct an 8-court Municipal Tennis Complex. Each tennis court would cost $15,000 to construct.

Park Gregory, a member of the city's Park Commission, recommended that the grant funds should be spent improving the street curbs at Liberty Park, along Columbia Street. "And I would hope that this council would continue to fund the parks at the same level as presently."

Resident Lee Miller urged the council to consider allocating some of the funds for the demolition of vacant buildings.

Councilperson Burma Wertz, who also serves as Mayor Pro Tem, reminded citizens that there are stipulations and guidelines for the use of Community Grant Funds and "sometimes businesses and groups decline the money because of the strings that are attached."

Mayor Bob Tontalo said that the council "is well aware of the problems of downtown Belleville. But it is not unique to our community. Small communities are discovering that they can't compete against the Briardwoods and the Fairlanes. But we are addressing ourselves to those problems. The group that Mr. Niemann chairs is a step in the right direction."

The mayor was referring to councilman Charles Niemann who has organized a "Minuteman Movement", which is actively pursuing the beautification of the city, getting more citizens involved in community projects and a wide range of other community lifting projects.

Addict for the news

by TOM MOORADIAN

Being an addict for news, we sometimes forget that there is life beyond the typewriter. We write names, places and events all the time. And they are just that most of the time. Names. Places and events. The human aspect is often forgotten until we come toe-to-toe with the subject.

And though we are an intricate part of the cast - the story-teller - we must stay outside of the story, attempting at all times to be "fair" and "objective", but as the courts would tell us - there is no such thing as "objectivity" because, human as we are, we are influenced by one's looks. His appearance. Mannerisms and you name it.

Thus, armed with my prejudices, I entered the Belleville City Council chambers Monday night with an obstinate sense of justice. Why would an august body as the City Council demand the resignation of a young and enthusiastic city manager who had great dreams for this city? I asked myself.

There was a crowd in the chambers and again my initial thoughts were that "these people are also here to learn the reasons for the sudden demise of their city manager."

I was wrong.

The citizens were concerned about Community Grant Funds and where those monies would be allocated.

In business-like fashion, the council dismissed their city manager of two years with a simple unanimous vote to accept his one-sentence resignation.

End of an era in one simple sentence. What did go wrong? What happened to the dream? No one wishes to comment.

Mayor Bob Tontalo did say, however, "That it just didn't work out." And city attorney B. Ward Smith noted "that, according to the City Charter, the city manager serves at the will of the council."

And the will of the council has been served.

But, as the philosopher Schopenhauer once noted: "When a Man fails, somehow we have all failed."

The next city manager will inherit all of the problems that remain. Listening to the citizens Monday night, one realizes that those problems are serious. A decaying Main Street, dotted with empty stores, is not a pleasant sight - and rumors have it that yet another landmark - Belleville Drugs has been purchased by Arbor Drugs. Arbor Drugs reportedly will be relocated in the newly-constructed Belle Plaza, thus leaving Main Street with yet another empty store.

Dave Hamilton, who is managing his father's hardware store on Main Street while his father, R. Lynne Hamilton, supervises Van Buren Township's affairs, offered a suggestion that the council will undoubtedly investigate. Hamilton asked Council "to hire a professional consultant to help with the revitalization of downtown Belleville."

Northville has turned things around. So has Saline and Wayne.

Why can't Belleville, a city that has in its palm Belleville Lake, the only lake in Wayne County do it?

Dems to hold art show

The 15th Congressional District Democratic Organization will present a "Spring Art Extraordinaire" from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., Sun., April 21 at the Farmers' Market located in the Depot Town, Ypsilanti.

Artists whose work include canvases paintings, graphic design, jewelry, photography, ceramics, weaving and macrame have been invited to display and sell their pieces.

For further information, contact Dee Degan (487-9691) or Sylvia Williams (665-6360).

Belleville hunts for 'can do' people

Beauty will be preserved and perpetuated in Belleville.

That's the word from the Van Buren-Belleville-Sumpter Civic Affairs Steering Committee which, in cooperation with the City of Belleville, has established a Beautification Committee.

That committee will be charged with "sprucing up and cleaning up the arteries leading to the city and down Main Street through the period of April 15 until the end of May," according to Charles Niemann, chairman of the steering committee.

Niemann stressed that "there are many elements of the beautification plan."

Those plans include:

- Community sign promoting Van Buren-Belleville-Sumpter as a growth community to live, work and plan in. The sign is to be located at I-94 and Belleville Road.

- A new Belleville community area sign to be located on the triangular parcel of land approaching the bridge on Belleville Road. The sign will include new service club identification emblems and the area around the sign will be landscaped. (Gateway to City of Belleville.)

- Improve the roadway and bridge area leading into the City of Belleville placing weed-killer along the barriers leading to the bridge and obtain assistance from Wayne County to sand blast and repaint the bridge.

Where feasible place decorative trees along Main Street in Belleville starting at Liberty and Main and concluding at Five Points. The trees will be in ground in the areas where sidewalk is wide enough to accommodate the tree planting.

Place planters with shrubs along Main Street starting at Main and Liberty Streets and concluding at Five Points.

- Construct a downtown mall located on Fourth Street adjacent to Main Street comprised of a lighted fountain, benches, trees and landscaping.

Paint-up and clean-up approximately 15 store fronts and rears. This is a community involvement project when Minutemen will supervise crews of high school students who will clean sidewalks and store fronts the entire distance of Main Street.

- Wash down Main Street and sidewalks with the work provided by the Fire Department.

- Place a commemorative plaque on the historical old Township Hall in the center of town to recognize all companies, agencies, and organizations that contributed to the beautification plan.

"There is a fund-raising drive in progress right now," Niemann said, "requesting specific funds for new signs, trees and planters. In a large measure the over-all success of this plan will depend on the generous response from these local businesses who have been asked to contribute to this effort."

The Beautification Committee is made up of Eileen Ibach, Rosemary Loria, Marge Emerson, LaDonna Shifco, Kae and Jay Hartford.

Board race has familiar ring

Van Buren School District voters won't have to spend much time at the polls on June 10 as only one candidate has emerged for each of the three available seats.

When Dr. An-

toinette Schiesler resigned from the school board last year, the board appointed Barbara Faler to the position. Faler, 38, is seeking to serve the one year left in that term.

Dr. Richard Muse,

who served on the school board during the 1970's, is seeking the three-year seat. He is not being challenged. The 58-year-old Muse is an optometrist who has served six years as a member of the Wayne County Intermediate School District. Dr. Muse resides at 159 W. Columbia.

Robert E. Cook, also a recent school board appointee, is asking voter approval for the four year term that was held by Cathy Horste. Horste resigned because of health problems and Cook filled the vacancy. He's 48 and resides at 9569 Morton Taylor Road.

Our Town

Here's what is happening in 'Our Town' this week:

- Wayne County Commissioner Milton Mack will be the guest speaker at the Van Buren Democratic Club's monthly regular meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Wed., April 17.

The meeting will be conducted in the facilities of the Western Wayne campus of the Wayne County Community College on Haggerty Road, just north of the I-94 Expressway.

There is no charge, and the public is invited. Those wishing further information may contact Doreen Craven, president of the Belleville-Van Buren Democratic Club at 697-8179.

- The Wayne County 4-H Equine Education Committee is staging a driving clinic for anyone who is interested in learning about training their horses for driving or finding out more about the pleasure of show driving horses.

David Earhart, a trainer from Milford, is the guest instructor. Earhart has won many awards for his driving and exhibition of horses.

The "Driving Clinic" will be held 1 p.m., Sat., April 20 at the Katona Training Stable, 44641 Bemis Road, Belleville. There is a $1 charge per person and the public is invited. For further details, contact the 4-H offices at 721-6576 or 753-4982.

- It's fund-raising time for the Belleville Tiger Booster Club which will present "The Sting" on Saturday, April 27 at the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road. There will also be "Las Vegas" gambling from 7 p.m. until 1 p.m. There is a $2 advance ticket price. Tickets at the door will cost $3.

For further information or tickets, telephone 697-7993.

- The Boy Scout Troop 1071 of Belleville is sponsoring a spaghetti dinner beginning at 5:30 p.m. until 8 p.m., Fri., April 26 at the United Methodist Church in Belleville. Tickets, at $3, will be sold at the door. Senior citizens will be charged $2. Family tickets are also available at $10. All proceeds will be donated toward the scouts' summer camp.

For further information telephone 697-2816 or 295-4200.

- Mary Weatherolt (Griffin), daughter of Mrs. Catherine Griffin and the late Leo J. Griffin, 36 E. Columbia, was selected as a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society at Eastern Michigan University.

Golden Key is a non-profit organization with active chapters at major universities throughout the United States. Membership is by invitation only, recognizing and encouraging scholastic achievement and excellence among junior and senior students.

- A reception was recently held at Eastern Michigan University's McKenney Union to honor the 84 new initiates. Weatherholt, an arts management major, graduated from Belleville High in 1970.

Peter J. Glaab, J. of New Boston, was recently selected to attend a top level sales conference in Hawaii sponsored by the Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company, of Farmington Hills.

Glaab, a lifetime resident of the Romulus-New Boston area, has been a Hamilton representative for 16 years and has attended as many sales conferences with the company. He is the owner of the Individual Financial Planning Agency.

- Pvt. Terry R. Parks, son of Luther S. and Mamie P. Parks of Belleville, has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

During the training, students received instructions in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

- He is a 1984 graduate of Belleville High School.

- Senior citizens in the area should take note that the "Golden Age Showcase" in Ypsilanti has a new home. The group has moved to a section of the Grand Trunk, Ltd. store. "This is our sixth move and we are very pleased to have a ground level store with excellent parking facilities," said Marian A. Rich, publicist for the organization. "Our membership is open to any senior citizen, 55 and over or handicapped."

Information about the Golden Age Showcase may be obtained by telephoning Marian A. Rich.

- Our Town" is compiled and edited by the Belleville Enterprise editor, Tom Mooradian. Those wishing to submit articles for consideration for this column should mail the information to the newspaper at 116 Fourth Street, Belleville, Michigan in care of Mr. Mooradian. Those wishing to call may telephone 697-9191.

New PHASE

Romulus Councilman Pete Bergeron has been granted membership into the Physician Hospital Administrative Services, Inc. (PHASE) by the Peoples Hospital Authority Board (PCHA).

Through this corporation, the PCHA will gain the ability to package health care services in conjunction with the physician providers, and enter into contracts and joint ventures with various purchasers.

The creation of PHASE was promoted by concerns that an inability to enter into contractual agreements, which involve new types of reimbursement plans, use of assets and coordination with physician panels, would seriously erode patient demand for PCHA services.

Lau meeting

The Charley Lau Committee will meet 7 p.m. every Wednesday during the month of April in the Romulus Recreation Building. For further information about the committee or the planned tribute to the former pro ball player contact Dennis Davidson at 941-0666.

Clean-up set

With the coming of warmer weather, the Romulus Ordinance Department will be urging all residents to clean up trash and debris and inoperable vehicles from their property.

Unkempt premises and open storage of junk cars is against city ordinances and those ordinances will be enforced.

For further information call the Ordinance Department at 941-0666, extension 246.

Resistors to teaching: She finds both in army

Story by Staff Sgt. Richard D. Glynn
Photos by Spec. 4 Lupe Hernandez

DARNSTADT, West Germany— Look to the skies could well be the watchword for Army Spec. 4 Karen V. Scott and more than 13,000 other soldiers who defend the airspace of central Western Europe.

Scott, 26, daughter of Dollie Havard of Ecorse Road, Romulus, is a member of the 32nd Army Air Defense Command, the Army's largest air defense organization.

A field radio repairer, Scott is stationed in Wurzburg with the command's 6th Battalion, 52nd Air Defense Artillery.

"I fix the radios, field telephones and their wiring and antennas," said Scott. "I like electronics because it's a field that a person can never learn too much and end up in a rut. Someone's always finding a better way to do things."

"Before I came into the Army, I didn't even know what a resistor looked like. Now I can look inside my stereo or TV and at least identify the circuits, if not fix some parts. That makes me proud. I've only been in it for a year and I've got three more years to grow in this field."

The 32nd Army Air Defense Command is part of the overall NATO umbrella guarding free Europe. More than 150 tactical sites and work locations distributed over 56,000 square miles comprise the defense command. Its mission is an unceasing 24-hour-a-day, 365-day-a-year vigil of the skies.

"When I decided to enter the Army, following in my father's footsteps, I was told all the horror stories of service life," said Scott. "But here at my unit, there's no horror. The Army is challenging, but it's also humane."

"The people in my section have good working relationships and we all pull each other through working and emotional ups and downs."

"I'm also a soldier on call 24-hours-a-day. But my supervisors and commander have worked a schedule out for me so I can use my college degree and teach for the University of Maryland here. It helps me feel fulfilled, since I don't have to forget about my life before the Army. But the commitment I have with the Army will always come first. My teaching is a privilege I feel lucky to have."

The soldiers of the defense command aren't the only ones with their eyes peeled. Due to their weapons systems, which include Hawk and Nike-Hercules missiles and the new Patriot missile, which will replace the other two, the men and women of this command are also in the public eye at times.

"I think many of the Germans who are against the weapons and the nukes here are something like the people at home who have the same opinions," Scott said. "They know it's necessary, but they're scared, scared of the whole situation. They don't know what to do, except feel helpless and protesting is their only way of expressing that."

Being stationed in West Germany is more than working in a different land, it's a chance for many soldiers to experience the Germanic culture or strike out and visit the other nations bordering this central European country.

"I like being stationed in Germany, because Europe has always been a place I wanted to travel to," said Scott. "And now I'm here and I intend to see as much as possible. I really like the food, wine, language and I'm beginning to feel somewhat safe at night by myself. It's a nice place to visit. But even though I was born here, I wouldn't want to live here. I miss the 'world' which is what we call Hometown, U.S.A."

A 1976 graduate of Romulus High School, Scott went on to earn a master's degree in dramatic arts from Eastern Michigan University at Ypsilanti.

Scott and her husband, Ellery, have a daughter, Chrystal, 5.

Marine patrols resume

Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano has announced that on May 1 the Marine Division will reinstitute patrols on Lake St. Clair, Detroit River, Lake Erie and Belleville Lake.

The Marina Advisory Task Force will hold its first meeting on April 23 at 9 a.m. at the Stinson Center (Great Lakes Steel Management Club) on Jefferson east of Southfield Road.

Again this year, the department intends to work closely with the task force, which consists of representatives from local police agencies, boat owners and marina proprietors to further reduce theft and vandalism and also to coordinate efforts for continued effective law enforcement on the waterways.

"This task force concept originated from the Hines Park task force," Ficano said. He stressed that the Sheriff's Department encourages communities "to get involved" in crime prevention. The agenda will include discussions on:

- Enforcement of drunk-driving laws on waterways;

- Increased security (lighting, equipment identification, hot sheets);

- Proposed legislation; and

-Boater safety instruction (local watercraft controls).

Social Security

laws change

Recent changes to the Social Security law are important for people who receive or apply for Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability benefits. These changes establish new guidelines for deciding whether a person is still disabled and provide other new rules for making determinations of disability at all administrative levels.

People receiving disability benefits will continue to have their eligibility reviewed periodically and payments will generally continue unless the person's condition has improved and he or she can do substantial work.

Coreen J. Nodwell, the daughter of Ralph and Arleen Nodwell of Belleville, has been selected to participate in the Class for Doctor of Veterinary Medicine at Michigan State University.

She graduated

from Belleville High School in 1982 as class valedictorian. This appointment was predicated on her scholastic record, exposure to veterinarian medicine and self-devotion.

She voluntarily worked as an intern assistant at the Haslett Animal Hospital in Hawlett, Michigan, and through summer employment at the Belleville Animal Hospital, where she gained knowledge and experience.

She stated that anyone desiring to enter veterinarian medicine should plan many years in advance. It requires good grades, discipline, devotion and they should have some experience by working as a volunteer with a local veterinarian.

Christopher Pennington of Romulus is one of 271 students named to the Dean's List at Messiah College for work completed during the fall 1984 semester.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry G. Pennington of Stewart Drive, Romulus, Pennington is a freshman computer science major at Messiah College.

To be named to the Dean's List, students must achieve at least a 3.6 grade point average out of a perfect 4.0. Students achieving this status were honored at a special Dean's List Dinner in February.

Sue A. Meyer, the daughter of Donald and Jean Meyer of Belleville, currently is co-chairing the annual faculty brunch at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

A senior majoring in interpersonal and public communications, she is a member of Mortar Board, the senior national honor society.

Meyer also has been selected as one of CMU's "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Belleville resident Scott Dawe recently received his bachelor of business administration degree from Grand Valley State College in Allendale. Dawe completed his degree requirements during the fall 1984 semester.

Five Belleville-Romulus residents have been named to the Dean's List for the fall 1984 semester.

Full-time students, maintaining 3.25 grade point averages, were Romulus residents Cari McDermott, Gregory Levine and Douglas McCurry, Belleville resident Lisa Clevenger and Van Buren Township resident Mary Reum.

Belleville resident Karen A. Lid of Willis Road has been admitted to the Honors Program at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Students applying to the program must have a grade point average of at least 3.5 for high school and 3.3, if already students at the university.

Lid is a sophomore, majoring in medical technology. She received the EMU Recognition of Excellence Scholarship and previously attended Wayne County Community College.

Belleville resident Raymond Drouillard has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the winter day term at Lawrence Institute of Technology. To be named to the honor roll he had to maintain a 3.5 grade point average and be a full-time student.

Romulus resident Paul Masson has received a $1,000 Merit Award for 1985 for the University of Michigan's College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

Among degree candidates at Michigan State University at commencement ceremonies March 9 was Belleville resident Michael Mlsna, who was to have received his doctor of medicine degree.

Kathleen Zagar, a freshman from Belleville, is competing on Grand Valley State's Women's track team. She competes in the 1,000-meter run and the mile run. Zagar set the school record in the 1,000-meter with a time of 3:12. She also competed in the Great Lakes (See Page B-2)

Steering the right way

There's plenty of good news in Canton Township. Site plan approval of a 12-theatre movie complex and the near completion of a six-movie cinema, the adoption of the Mayflower Hot Air Balloon Festival and ground-breaking for the $10 million American Yazaki research and development center are indications of the direction the township is taking as home for residential, commercial and industrial growth.

Among those experiencing that growth, and the growing pains that accompany it, are members of the Canton Police Department -- 36 men and women who have been given a unique opportunity to take part in determining the department's future.

Minus a police chief and operating at staffing levels that even a township-funded study stressed were below bare bones levels, officers already low on time and energy have invested both to form a steering committee to examine department needs.

The culmination of the steering committee's two-month effort is an impressive staffing master plan, publicly presented for the first time last week.

During a meeting with the steering group, three Canton board members appointed to work with the group reviewed the first phase of that plan. As a result, they agreed to recommend the hiring of three additional sworn police officers and to continue study of other staffing improvements.

Wrong. The steering committee chairperson admitted instead to feeling depressed. "I feel we've been given a bone tonight," he said.

A bone? An education, more likely, in the process and pace of local government.

In the absence of a chief, officers who may have never needed to attend a board meeting in the past are now displaying impressive skills at collecting and presenting data and articulating their needs.

All they lack is patience.

Familiar with duties which often require immediate decision-making, police personnel must learn to shift into low gear when dealing with government leaders rightfully cautious about spending tax dollars.

Solutions to problems within Canton's troubled police department will probably emerge at a rate comparable to the development of those problems.

In the meantime, officers and non-sworn personnel have an exciting opportunity to steer the department in the direction they'd like a new chief to pursue, to make lasting changes, to improve the quality of work life for themselves and service to residents.

Unless, of course, they give up first.

Critical school election

The June 10 election of three board of education members in the Wayne-Westland School District will be critical to the future of one of the state's largest school entities.

A lack of harmony among board members and administration officials has taken the district off course at times in its pursuit of a top-caliber educational program for all students. While differences of opinions can be a healthy ingredient of a progressive public body, the polarization of this group has proven to be anything but positive.

Petty politics and personality clashes have produced a board which unfortunately became incapable of compromise on essential matters, including the recent appointment of a seventh member to replace W. James LeDuc. The situation had deteriorated to the extent that the Wayne County Intermediate School District Board of Education was forced to intervene.

With the influx of students from the Cherry Hill School District, the Wayne-Westland District has expanded to service the educational needs of a large geographic area that includes approximately 67,000 registered electors. These students need the benefits of educational direction; audits, accusations and other disruptions only soil the reputation of the district.

During the next two months it is imperative that the dialogue between candidates and the public begins in earnest. An issue-oriented campaign could be just what the doctor ordered for this divided board of education.

It appears that the debate will not only center on personalities. A movement to have the Timothy Dyer Educational Center renamed the Wayne-Westland School District Educational Center has been launched.

Will such an issue further split the board? Only time will tell, but we encourage the voters of this district to actively participate in the upcoming election.

Two four-year terms and one three-year term will be contested on June 10. The Dyer Center renaming proposal also could find its way to the ballot, if voters support a petition drive on the issue.

What are the goals and plans of the candidates? How do they hope to restore a sense of pride in the school district? Do the budgetary procedures of the district need revamping? The questions are many; the candidates must supply the answers.

A good campaign and a good turnout on election day are sorely needed in the Wayne-Westland district.

Burnt Memories

It has been a week that will not soon be forgotten by the Shafer family.

Martin Shafer stood on Michigan Avenue in Wayne Monday morning, watching a crane remove the rubble that until last Friday night housed the headquarters of his family's theatre empire. Fire destroyed the structure from where Martin, Charles and their mother, Lillian, had directed the building of one of the best-known chains of movie theatres in the state.

"This triggers a lot of memories," Martin told me as we stood nearby, watching the firefighters and demolition workers at their tasks. "All our scrapbooks were in there. They are trying to pull the safes out to see if we can get our check books out -- it's pay day, you know," he said.

Martin pointed to the area where his desk had stood -- "Look, you can see the top of my desk now," he told me. His brother's office was in the section still standing, he explained. "That was the hotel lobby. You probably don't remember that, do you?" he asked.

"That section didn't fall in because the floor was reinforced with steel, it was terrazzo. That was over the theatre lobby," he added.

Martin was home when he received the news that flames were destroying his office and the building that had become a landmark in Wayne. Ironically, the family had just finalized negotiations for the sale of the Algiers Drive-in in Westland to make way for a shopping center. "They're out there today, taking down the tower," Martin said.

It was the end of an era and the beginning of another. Typically Shafers have bounced back, scrambling to maintain operations by setting up offices elsewhere. They have worked through the weekend moving into what will now be their new location on Wayne Road in Westland.

On the scene were Wayne fire personnel, state police and demolition workers. According to Martin, the city is concerned with someone being injured. Michigan Avenue is partially blocked to allow room for workers to tear into the burnt ruins.

"I started work for my father in 1931," Martin reminisced with me. "We used to be able to slide down the hill that dropped off just behind the building."

"The big night (at the theatre) was dime night. I remember my mother could not believe we took in $5 in 12 hours at the candy counter," Martin added.

The fire crews from four communities had toiled through the early morning hours of Saturday to save what is now only a burnt-out shell. Fear of losing a large section of the central business district of Wayne, located in the same block, drove them on in their Herculean efforts to contain the blaze.

In addition to the Shafer's, a beauty shop, as well as Nationwide Tax Service, housed in the same building, lost their offices. Pat Feight, entrepreneur extraordinaire, had her business leveled by the flames. Pat, like the Shafers, has survived many a business crisis. Prior to the blaze, she seemed to have dug in and was well on her way to becoming an even stronger pillar of the Wayne business scene. Now with virtually her entire inventory destroyed, she asked me Monday afternoon, "Where can I go? I'd like to stay in Wayne, but there is no place here, where I should be." Thanks to Lill Garrett of Garrett Glass in Wayne, Pat has been able to set up temporary offices. "Thank God for Bill," Pat added. Let's hope Pat can find a suitable location in Wayne.

The loss of this historic landmark is a loss for the community, and saddens me, personally, as well. Prior to Pat Feight occupying what was the Shafer's original theatre, it was the site of the Wayne Music

Save our libraries

To the Editor:

Libraries are not luxuries, they are a vital part of a child's education.

Our school libraries encourage students to read, provide materials and support to classes, and help teach students how to do research and find information. With proposed budget cuts, our district will be losing two high school librarians and the media aides in all our elementary schools. Cutting library personnel and services won't save money, it will just be wasting money that has already been invested in library facilities, materials and equipment.

What can we do?

Students and teachers can complain when library services and materials are not available; principals can fight to keep their libraries open and staffed with qualified people; parents can really help by calling the school district or sending letters to the Board of Education, Westland, Michigan, and signing petitions circulated by P.T.O. members supporting full library services for our district and our children.

Please help save our libraries.

First amendment

To the Editor:

Don't the Associated Newspapers believe in the first amendment any more? Haven't they been aware of bill 899 which by law determines what I may view in the privacy of my own home?

Our state legislature has set itself up as the protector of the public morals, this was all done in the greatest secrecy, and citizen input was nowhere to be seen.

Does this mean I will have to hide my copies of Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn?

Anyone who wants to circulate petitions to recall these Puritans will find me ready to sign.

Enjoyable league

To the Editor:

The bantam bowling teams who bowled at the Romulus Recreation Bowling Lanes would like to express their appreciation to Sylvia and her daughters for the wonderful time we had this past season. The league was very enjoyable for all of the kids and Sylvia went out of her way to do a little bit extra.

The banquet last Saturday was great; all the kids got a trophy and a bowling pin which made their day, with no one team being recognized more than any other.

Reopen incinerator

To the Editor:
In connection with the article in your March 27th Eagle about the money needed to reopen the incinerator plant, why would this be a problem for the city of Westland?

Isn't the motto of our city, "Pride, Progress and Promise"?

Kick the problem

To the Editor:
Thank you for your coverage of the Substance Abuse Telethon. As you know, we raised about $30,000 in that effort.

Your continuing coverage of substance abuse will help to "kick" the problem for our young people and for our community. On behalf of those who will be helped, thank you.

Getting an education

To the Editor:
Having attended the March 25th Plymouth-Canton School Board meeting, I received quite an insight into the process that determines the policies governing the School District. Following a presentation to a teacher for her going the "extra mile" (spending many hours on her own time - giving of herself and upholding the finest tradition of teachers in the Plymouth-Canton School District), a resolution was introduced to correct a rule that everyone present agreed needed correcting.

Parents spoke of the emotional stress this rule was causing their families. Dr. Hoben introduced a resolution to not only correct the problem but to do so immediately. Mr. Bukima told the board that making the change would not pose any staff or enrollment problem. A statement was read indicating that correcting the rule would mean more state money to the district, as we were currently losing students, and therefore state money, because of this rule.

A classic example of a "no lose" situation. Not one person spoke against the rule change.

Then it was the turn of the voting members (7) to comment prior to their vote: One member felt this stress and pain the parents spoke about was in reality just a game, apparently played for her enjoyment. Elaine Kirchgatter's comment was "as I view this a game and we should not change the rules while the game is being played, I vote against the resolution."

E. J. McClendon's comment was, "People will think we didn't know what we were doing last year if we change this rule now, I vote against the resolution." After loudly proclaiming (for some unexplained reason) that he was a proud native of Arkansas, he appeared to me to behave more like a four-legged native of Missouri. Nancy Quinn espoused this pearl of logic, "I voted against the change last time so I'll be voting against it this time."

Fortunately common sense did prevail and the remaining four members voted for the resolution.

This really was an education. Ignorance, pride, and politics can not prevail over common sense. Or can they? Let's wait and see how the vote on giving those fine "extra milers" the choice of having their children assigned to the same school or not have their children assigned to the same school goes. I can hardly wait for the next Board Election.

Clean indoor air

To the Editor:

Residents of our Wayne-Westland community should take special pride in supporting Michigan's Clean Indoor Air Act, recently reintroduced by Rep. Justine Barns of Westland.

14,000 Michigan deaths last year were linked to cigarette smoking. Our organization frequently helps people cope with disastrous medical, psychological, and financial problems also linked to smoking.

Perhaps these experiences have made us especially eager to support non-smoke-filled, clean indoor air for all residents.

We congratulate our legislators and urge a speedy passage of this pro-health legislation!

Relief for farmers

Wayne County Commissioner Milton Mack has announced a plan which could provide relief to the Wayne County farmers who have drainage problems in their fields.

Working with County Executive Bill Lucas, and County Drain Commissioner Charles Youngblood, Mack has helped orchestrate a program whereby the farmers, working with the county, can clean their own drains with county supervision and engineering plans.

In response to request from the Wayne County Farm Bureau and the Wayne County Soil Conservation District, a program has been offered in which the review fees and inspection costs will be waived for any Wayne County farmers requesting a drain cleanout permit. In return, the farmers will provide the labor to clean the ditches, while the Drain Commissioner will provide the supervisions and the land specs.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want,
Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers

Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Order immediately by sending a check or money order to DYNALABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1255 (Dept. U-21) Beverly Hills, CA, 90210. (Enclose your return address). Credit card holders can order by simply dialing toll free: (1-800-367-2400) 24 hrs a day, 7 days a week. Either way your order will be promptly sent. Please don't wait. You really do deserve to be thin.

and Camera Center. During my high school years, I worked for the owner, John Nothnagel, his son, Ron, and son-in-law, Stu Meisner.

It was an interesting building to work in and explore. The balcony steps for the old theatre were walled off at the top of the stairs. I recall climbing up a ladder and exploring the old balcony, which is hidden from view by a "dropped ceiling." The old theatre stage and dressing rooms below were still accessible and Pat let me revisit them a few years ago when I was in the building, buying an organ from her.

I had often thought that one day a community theatre group might recapture the old building and put it into service again. As Martin said, these things trigger memories, and I have mine, too. I share his sense of loss.

Many others will have recollections as well, recalling the Nothnagels, Wayne Music, and perhaps, even the old theatre as it stood in its hey day. Perhaps it would be of general interest to share those memories with others. I would enjoy and appreciate a letter from any of you that might be shared with our other readers. For now this structure, so much a part of our community's history, has become a "burnt memory."

See you next week.

Wayne alumni banquet set

The annual Wayne High School Alumni Banquet will be held at 6 p.m. May 17 at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Van Born in Wayne.

The class celebrating its 50th anniversary and families of third and fourth generations in attendance will be honored. Tickets, priced at $15 per person, include dinner, program and dancing with live entertainment. A cash bar will be available.

Reservation forms are available at Cobb's Pharmacy, Mulholland's, Parkway Office Supply and Sadie's Beauty Salon and also may be obtained by calling 326-2396.

Belle Run open to public

The YMCA has opened its annual Belle Run to the public for the first time in its 23-year history. Known as an event for the whole family, the May 4 Run offers five races - something for everyone from preschoolers to grandparents.

Participation is limited to the first 1,000 registrants. The 10K Run with 10 age groups is the main event; beginning at 10 a.m. on the southeast corner of the Island at Vista and Strand. The Corporate Team 10K Race starts at the same time. The 5K Run and the 5K Race-Walk, each with 10 age groups, begins at 9 a.m. The 2K Race with five age groups for kids 13 years old and younger starts at 8:30 a.m.

All participants will receive a T-shirt and certificate of participation. In addition, more than 200 awards are given to the top five winners in each age category in each race. Refreshments are available free to participants at the end of each race. The registration fee is $7 for adults and $5 for children.

Help wanted: Jobs Hotline seeks youths

Wayne County Executive William Lucas has announced that the Extension Job Training Hotline (728-JOBS) is accepting applications for more than 350 summer positions for young adults, aged 16 to 21.

Wayne County youths will have the opportunity to earn $3.35 per hour or $5 per hour as supervisors in the Wayne County Private Industry Corporation Summer Youth Employment and Training Program (SYETP).

The work experience opportunities will be throughout the county, with the majority concentrated in the western suburbs. These include grounds-keepers for the Cooperative Extension Service and the county Office of Public Service. Also included are parks maintenance, road crews, clerical positions and custodians.

Participants will receive employment proficiency and work maturity training, as well as counseling throughout. Job placement assistance will be provided for those who successfully complete their work experience.

Lucas pointed out that "this program provides a realistic opportunity for these youngsters to not only develop good skills with actual work experience, but also to serve their communities in a meaningful way. Successful work experience on their resumes also enhances their future employability."

The 728-JOBS hotline is one of many employment services offered by the Cooperative Extension Service. The Extension Job Training information and referral service will link people of all ages with free job training programs throughout Southeast Michigan.

Currently, there are 20 openings in the Horticulture program for 16- to 21-year-olds. Trainees learn about the 13 basic fields within horticulture along with employment proficiency and work maturity to prepare for entry-level jobs. Optional advanced training is also available in the greenhouse management, landscaping, pest control, and fruit and vegetable production.

variety of jobs, depending on their interests. Program Director Gary Greenwell pointed out, "Right now we have more employers requesting our graduates than trainees to fill the positions. The biggest hiring season is just starting for the horticulture industry. Most of these jobs have a starting wage of $4 to $6 per hour with opportunities for advancement."

EJT offers an on-the-job training program for those not interested in horticulture. After a brief employability training period, trainees are placed into jobs to complete their training while they earn a paycheck. The employer receives a cash subsidy from the program during this period. Successful completors are immediately hired by the employer who trained them. The types of jobs in this program are limited only by participant interests and availability.

Extension Job Training also offers customized training for handicapped or learning disabled 16- to 20-year-olds. The counseling and training staff specializes in working with young adults who have barriers to employment such as criminal records, drug problems, and lack of basic skills, housing, or transportation.

Greenwell added that "our goal is to prepare young people for employment and ensure their success after we place them." He asked that anybody who would like to learn more call the 728-JOBS Hotline and speak with one of the counselors. Employers may also call the hotline to learn about the benefits of working the EJT, such as tax credit screening, referral, and locating dedicated and dependable employees.

Extension Job Training is located in the Wayne County Extension and Education Center, 5454 Venoy Road, Wayne. The 728-JOBS Hotline is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Cooperative Extension Service programs are open to all without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, or handicap.

gainful work. There are some exceptions such as: a person has benefited from medical advances or vocational therapy and is now able to work; new or improved diagnostic techniques or evaluations show that the person is not as disabled as previously thought and that therefore the person is able to work; the previous decision was not correct; or the person is gainfully employed.

New rules concerning the continuing disability review are currently being developed. Until they are issued in mid-1985 there will be no medical reviews for people receiving disability benefits. However, people who return to work or medically recover still need to notify Social Security.

Once reviews for continuing entitlement are resumed, if a person is found no longer disabled and appeals that decision, he or she may request to have benefits continued up through a hearing by an administrative law judge. If the appeal is unsuccessful, the person will be asked to repay the benefits, but also has the right to ask that he or she not be required to do so.

Another change requires new rules for evaluating mental impairments. Social Security worked with public and private mental health experts in developing these revised rules which will be available in mid-1985. The new rules will reflect improved medical knowledge of the characteristics and treatment of the mentally impaired and better assess a mentally impaired person's ability to work competitively.

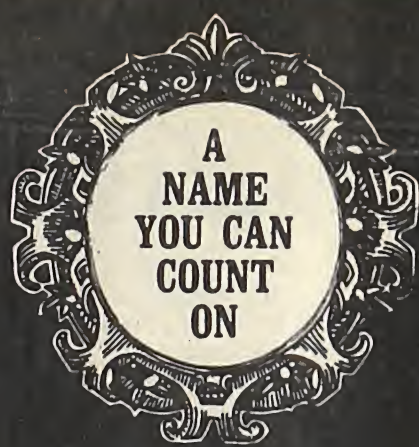

People with mental disorders who apply for benefits on or after Oct. 9, 1984, will be automatically reviewed in the future under the new rules if they cannot be approved under the current rules.

Even though the revised rules for evaluating mental impairments are not yet available, mentally impaired people who think they are disabled and had benefits denied or stopped for a medical reason between March 1, 1981 and Oct. 9, 1984, should be encouraged to reapply so that a disability decision can be made under the new rules.

The new law extends a rule that may help some people who are receiving SSI benefits and working while still disabled. Under certain conditions, a person can continue to receive SSI monthly checks or be eligible for Medicaid even if his or her earnings and other countable income are too high to continue getting checks.

Downsize Your Monthly Payments

Without Downsizing Your New Car

There it is, in the middle of the showroom. The car. It's the right color, with all the right options. You step closer, inhaling the "new car smell." But then, the sticker price takes your breath away. And the next model down suddenly begins to look a lot better.

Lower your payments, not your expectations.

There isn't much you can do about today's high, new-car prices — but you can lower your monthly payments with a Flex Rate Auto Loan from Wyandotte Savings Bank.

Flex your credit muscle.
WSB Flex Rate loans have lower monthly payments because the variable interest rate is lower than on fixed-rate loans. The interest rate may periodically change according to current Treasury bill rates, but rate increases are "capped" and your monthly payment amount never goes up. If rates fall, you'll make fewer payments. If they go up, the payment term is extended.

To apply for a WSB Flex Rate Auto Loan, ask your dealer, or come to any office of Wyandotte Savings Bank. So when you shop for a new car, you won't have to settle for less — just pay less every month.

new arrivals

Weirs have twin sons

Shelly and Dan Weir have double the celebrating to do, following the birth of twin sons April 3.

Their first children, the infants made their "debut" at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. First to arrive was Scott Daniel at 7:09 a.m. He weighed 5 pounds, 6 ounces and measured 17 1/4 inches in length.

Arriving at 7:10 a.m. was Brian Donald, who weighed 4 pounds, 7 ounces and measured 17 1/2 inches in length.

The newest Westland residents are the grandsons of Sue and Don Arner of Garden City, Arlene Mehmed of Dearborn Heights and Tom Weir of Minnesota. The great-grandparents include Hud and Juanita Somerville of Boyne City, Marian Stevens of Bloomfield Hills and Theresa Weir of Zephyr Hills, Florida.

and Sheryl Cross of Romulus.

The infant was born at 3 a.m. Feb. 26 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, weighing in at 7 pounds, 8 ounces and measuring 21 inches in length.

The new "little" brother of the Cross' three-year-old son, Jimmy, is the newest grandson of Jerry Mullins of Westland, Levern Mullins of Harts, West Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dudley of Romulus and James Cross of Victorville, California.

He's also the newest great-grandchild of Mary Mullins of Harts, West Virginia.

Welcome, Joseph

A hearty welcome home was extended to Joseph Edward Cichowski, the new son and first child of Cindy and Bill Cichowski of Westland.

The infant made his "debut" at 7:26 a.m. March 5 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, weighing in at 8 pounds, 8 1/2 ounces and measuring 22 inches in length.

Happy-as-can-be grandparents include Edward and Mildred Mular of Wayne and John and Ilene Shaffer of Romulus. Also celebrating the new arrival are great-grandparents Mary Russow of New Boston and Emma Eberline of Romulus.

Joseph is the 10th grandchild for the Mulars.

Bell's new addition

Chester and Janet Bell, residents of Belleville and employees of the University of Michigan, are the proud parents of a son, Chester James, born March 26 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The infant weighed 8 pounds, 2 1/2 ounces and measured 21 inches in length at birth.

Call her Jennifer

Her name is Jennifer Ann and she's the newest child of John and Lorraine Vergona of Westland.

The infant made her "debut" on March 22 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, weighing in at 8 pounds and measuring 22 inches in length.

She joins "big" brother John Jr. at the Vergonas' Marie Street home.

Jennifer is the new grandchild of James and Romelle Vergona of Wayne and Rosetta Crenshaw Truax of Trenton.

My name is Lindsay

She's the fifth granddaughter for both the maternal and paternal grandparents and the first child of Lonny and Marilyn Mascho of Charlotte, Michigan.

Her name is Lindsay Nicole and she made her "debut" at 9:30 p.m. March 8 at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. She weighed 8 pounds at birth and measured 21 inches in length.

When in France . . .
A group of Romulus Senior High School students have returned from a two-week trip to France as part of a program through Experiment in International Living of Brattleboro, Vermont. The students, with chaperone Jacquelin Riley (right), a french teacher at the high school, spent four days in Paris and 10 days in and around Caen, living with French families. On the trip were students Kristi Morris (from left), Amy Marvicsin, Kathy Anderson, Tandra Pendergrass, Juanita Forbes, Matt Deloge, Juliann Kaplan, Denise Berlinn and Terri Crout. Also making the trip, but not pictured, was Nashelle Bryant. Half of the trip was financed through fundraisers staged by the students.

PCHA adopts new hiring plan

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Special Writer

The People's Community Hospital Authority recently adopted an affirmative action plan designed to increase and stimulate participation among minorities and women.

Maureen Camps, Director of Community Relations for the Authority, which includes Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, Heritage Hospital in Taylor, Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park and Seaway in Trenton, said the PCHA already operated under an affirmative action program.

The recent move indicates an effort by the 47-member board to address the disparity in hiring minority workers and establishes a more specific plan for the recruitment of blacks, handicapped, Hispanics and women.

Setting a 3 percent hiring goal for the next year at all hospitals, an affirmative action manager will monitor minority placement in job classifications of officials and administrators, professionals, technicians, office and clerical, skilled labor and service and maintenance.

According to Dr. Terrell LeCesne, one of Inkster's two representatives on the board of directors, currently there exists an under-utilization of minorities in these areas.

Qualified applicants will now be actively sought and considered to improve the current 13.7 percent minority participation.

The PCHA employs about 3,300 full-time workers in the five hospitals, according to Camps.

Basically, she said, the new plan makes a statement to the communities that the "organization is committed to affirmative action" and will "seek to include more representatives from within the communities it services."

Also included in the plan is a revision of the authority's bidding sheet for contractors.

Revisions include a demand that bidders certify they are Equal Opportunity Employers.

Minority business will also be kept on file and contacted for participation in the bidding process.

Work contracted for amounts more than $50,000 would require an agreement by the contractor to include a minimum of 15 percent minority and/or women employees, according to a summary of the plan submitted by the board.

The authority also established an internal procedure for employees to file civil rights complaints and a "skills file" will be maintained to monitor current employees' future career pathing potential for higher placement within the organization.

Fashions for spring

All-Area wrestlers display 'true grit'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Dan Gibson exemplifies the kind of wrestler that the 1985 Associated Newspaper's All-Area Team is made up of - he's tough and pound-for-pound determined to win.

Gibson, a senior at Westland John Glenn, posted a 27-1 won-lost record this season. That lone loss was in the state finals where he finished second and settled for a silver medal.

"Dan is one of the most determined wrestlers I have ever had in my line-up" said Glenn Coach Tom Buckalew. Buckalew has been coaching at Glenn since 1968. "He's just a pleasure to coach."

The only Glenn wrestler to break into the ANP line-up this year, Gibson's credentials are impeccable. A three year varsity starter for the Westlanders, Gibson captured the Northwest Suburban Conference titles for all three years. He also was a repeat district and regional champ and finished third in the state as a junior.

Gibson's career record stands at 99-11-0.

Joining Gibson on the mythical All-Area team include: Joe Mabelitini (98-Romulus), Bruce Nigg (105-Belleville), John Ritchey (112-Belleville), and John's twin brother, James Ritchey (119-Belleville), Ed Fowler (132-Wayne Memorial), Tim Mitchell (138-Wayne Memorial), Dave Shareef (145-Wayne Memorial), Darrell Elder (155-Belleville), Vince Morris (167-Romulus), Doug Chapman (185-Belleville), and Bob O'Day (198-Romulus).

Anchoring this elite team is Tracy Cline, Romulus's senior heavyweight.

Cline is a natural leader and has been a member of Coach Wayne Schimming's varsity squad for the past four years. The rugged athlete was runner-up at both the tough Bedford Temperance district and the Carlson regional competitions, while finishing with a fourth place medal at state.

Cline's teammate, Morris, also earned a medal at state having finished sixth in the 167-pound category. Vince isn't a newcomer to All-Area line-ups. He made it as a running-back for the Eagles. "Morris was probably the biggest surprise of the season," notes Schimming. "He was the most improved wrestler on the team and to wind up sixth in the state is a tribute to his ability to endure."

Romulus's 98-pounder, Mabelitini, came on strong at mid-season after picking up a couple of tournament titles. He survived district and regional competition and ended his prep career with an enviable 28-10 record.

O'Day is a relatively newcomer on the mats. A junior, he muscled his way into the line-up after an injury sidelined one of his companions. Bob refused to play second fiddle to anyone and earned district considerations and "has developed into an excellent prospect for next year," says Schimming.

Late-starting Wayne Memorial can thank John Wood for any success its wrestlers had this season. Wood accepted the challenge after the season was a week old to get the Zebras ready for the campaign. And the 1985 campaign became notable for Fowler, Mitchell and Shareef.

Fowler, a senior with three years of varsity experience, captured the Wolverine "A"

Conference title en route to the Class A district and regional championships at Bedford and Carlson, respectively. Fowler qualified for state and finished the fifth best in Michigan at 132. He piled up a 12-0 dual meet record and posted a 43-6 overall mark. In fact, all three of Wayne's representatives to the All-Area had 40 or more victories this season.

Fowler also was awarded Wayne's Most Outstanding Wrestler's accolade. He finished in the finals of every tournament with the exception of the Bay City and state finals this season.

Mitchell racked up a 41-10 record in his senior year as a 138-pounder which included the League title. After finishing third at the district he came back to win the regional crown.

In state competition, Mitchell had the dubious honor of wrestling Mt. Pleasant's incredible Pat Boyd who has amassed a 167-1 won-lost record - a national record. Boyd had not lost a match since losing by a decision in the ninth grade.

Mitchell and Boyd clashed for the 138-pound title and although Tom didn't score a point against the defending state champ, he managed to stay with him until the last two seconds when he lost via a pin.

"Tim did an outstanding job in the state finals," Wood said.

Shareef is also a senior who brought the curtains down on an outstanding mat career with a league title. The 145-pounder was runner-up at the district and the regional tournaments.

Pat Sheridan: a rising baseball comet.

Royal conquest

Wayne star earns spot in line-up

By MICHELLE ROGUSKA
Special to ANP

Pat Sheridan couldn't have picked a better time for his first major league hit. His Kansas City Royals were taking on the Detroit Tigers, the team he watched as a youngster growing up in Wayne. His friends and family were looking on in Michigan via television.

Sheridan's Royals were also starring at a 2-1 deficit with one out in the ninth inning when the 6-foot-3, 175-pound outfielder came to the plate. On a 3-2 count Sheridan deposited a Milt Wilcox fastball into the seats for a game tying home run, sending the game into extra innings.

The Royals eventually lost the game, but Pat Sheridan had made his point. "I wanted to do well, because first impressions stick in minds," he said with a grin. "I was so nervous the first time up I swung at the first pitch and flew out. I wasn't trying to get a home run. I just wanted to get a hit. That home run was extra special. That was one of the biggest thrills."

"It's funny how you finally get the first hit and then you can't wait to get up the next time."

Sheridan may not hit a lot of home runs, but he's done everything the organization has asked since calling him to the major leagues for good in May 1983. He hit .307 in 20 games with the Royals Class AA affiliate in Omaha when word came of his promotion. He rounded out his first year in the big leagues hitting 270 in 109 games.

"We knew he had talent," said Royals manager Dick Howser, watching his squad prepare for its exhibition game in Fort Myers, Fla. against the Baltimore Orioles. "He's a good all-round player. He can run and steal bases. He has a good arm and can hit for a solid average." The Royals did ask the former Eastern Michigan University standout to move from center field to right field in the middle of the 1984 campaign.

Sheridan opened the season in center field while starter Willie Wilson finished serving a one-year suspension invoked by then commissioner Bowie Kuhn for his involvement with drugs.

Reserve outfielder Lynn Jones was hurt as well, giving the 27-year-old Sheridan a chance to play daily. He responded by keeping his batting average above .300 and keeping opponents off the bases with his fine defensive plays.

When Wilson returned to the line-up he was moved to right field, so the Royals could utilize Wilson's blazing speed in center.

"I was so nervous the first time I swung the bat."

"When you've got a guy like Willie who can run down about anything hit out there, you can't argue about where you want to play him. I wanted to play anywhere I would get a chance to play everyday," Sheridan said.

Once Wilson returned, Sheridan didn't play every day. He platooned with Jones and Darryl Motley, playing strictly against right-handed pitchers while the others logged time against left-handers. The system worked for the Royals as Motley posted a .284 average with 15 home runs in 146 games, while Jones posted a .301 in 46 games. Meanwhile, Sheridan recorded some impressive credentials as well, finishing the year with a respectable .283 mark including 24 doubles and 19 stolen bases. In May alone he hit .347 and with his first major league grand slam home run coming off Charlie Hough of the Texas Rangers May 18 at Royals Stadium.

"At the start of the year I went to the park knowing I was going to play. With Willie out and Lynn hurt we had a shortage of outfielders. I did what I had to do to let them know I could play. But the decision is up to them. It is easier to be consistent when you play every day though," Sheridan said.

At the All-Star break, Sheridan led the club with a .329 average, but that steadily dropped afterward. He batted .237 after the break, including a September slump in which he hit .216.

"I had a good over-all year," Sheridan went on to say that the only thing he was disappointed in was that he didn't hit .300. "I really thought I had a chance. But you never know when you're going to have a slump."

Sheridan was particularly impressive on the road, leading Kansas with a .310 average in away games, seventh best in

"We asked Dave to wrestle a weight up to help the team," explained Wood. "And he did. He's probably one of the most dedicated wrestlers we have had here."

Belleville continued its domination of the Wolverine A Conference, winning its second straight league title after posting a perfect 12-0 dual meet season. Coach Gerald Malacek's Tigers were second behind state champ, Bedford, in the district's and third at regional before finishing sixth in the state finals.

The Tiger standouts include Nigg, who, as a junior, won the league championship, finished second to state champ, Doug Harper, in the district and was third in the regional's. "Bruce has a tremendous amount of self-discipline," said Malacek. "He works hard and the results were there." Nigg finished with a 38-9 over-all record.

John Ritchey piles up 25 victories in 32 starts as a senior and capped a three-year varsity career with the league title at 112, a third place at district's and a fourth at regionals. John surprised a lot of people when he managed to finish sixth in state. "He was also our MVP last year."

James Ritchey failed to qualify for state, but this 119-pound senior has a league championship and a fourth place district performance to go along with his 21-9 record. "He has a lot of technique," said the Tiger coach. "He served the team in many capacities. In fact, he was a cross between manager and assistant coach and John Gozchis (assistant coach) says that Jim is probably the first manager to ever win a league title."

Elder broke a few records as a junior and next year could develop into the finest wrestler in the school's long history. As a junior this year Darrell captured his second successive league title and also won the district's but finished second on the regional. His 45-6 won-lost record snapped the previous school record (42) for most victories. He was named the team's MVP. "Elder is a wrestler who all coaches dream about having in their line-up. He does so many things well."

Chapman, a senior, also owns the school mark for Most Falls. He eclipsed the previous record of 25 falls set by Mel Richendollar and Joe Justin. The 185-pound Chapman, also an All-Area griddier, won the league championship and went on to place second in the district and third in the regionals.

Doug also won a third place medal at the state championships, finishing with a remarkable 40-8 over-all record.

Now that April is here and the 1984-85 bowling season is coming to an end, the focus of our attention is directed toward the potential champions, the award-winners in the leagues we bowl in.

If you were to look back to September chances are that you would remember we signed up for a league as an excuse for a night of fun with our friends. As the season progressed, however, we got caught up with the game by watching averages and league standings. Eventually you got into the competitive spirit and dedicated your efforts toward being an award-winner and if successful that reward will soon be yours.

There is a group of men in our community, members of the Wayne-Westland Men's Bowling Association, that have dedicated their efforts to the game in a slightly different way.

Although these men are members of leagues their dedication goes beyond that horizon. These men are concerned with promoting the game with the best interests of all bowlers in mind.

They have initiated such programs as distributing awards for special accomplishments, conducting youth scholarship tournaments, men's mixed tournaments, and many more. Being a member of this august group for the past few years I could go on and list numerous activities that they are responsible for. I could describe in detail the dedication displayed by this group, but thanks to the recent "happenings" it will not be necessary.

The national governing body of men's bowling, the American Bowling Congress, has recognized the efforts and bestowed national honors on the Wayne-Westland Men's Bowling Association by awarding the association the ABC annual Service Award.

The winning of this award is especially sweet because there are no separate divisions within the competition. This group was in direct comparison with all of the other associations in the nation - small and large. And adding to the awards distinction is the fact that the award program has been in existence for only three years.

The WWMBA was only one of 10 associations to receive the prestigious award this year and as a result has been classified as being one of the top 100 associations in a field of more than 2,800 associations in the country.

The building of this nationally respected local organization didn't occur overnight. It took years of dedication and effort on the part of both present and past members. We all owe a deep debt of gratitude and congratulations to the league pioneers, men such as Pat Patton, Bud Mach, and Ed McNamara who live on in our memories as well as current life members: Dick Mach, Don Stobb and Floyd Hines.

Also to be commended are current Board of Director members: Ed Burns, president; Doug Uhl, secretary-treasurer; Joe Charnawskas, vice-president; Nick Witkowski, vice president; Dan Altizer, vice president; Bob Knechtges, vice president; Ed Vandervennet, Bill Amunason, Norm Kluska, Joe Reynolds, Wil Simonds, Bob Hammenberg, Ivery Taylor, Donald Yates, Jay Dishong, Larry Traver, Jack Cunningham, Gil Reppenhagen Jr., Bob Pniewski, Larry Kilgore, Jim Wrublewski and Steve Londeau.

Some of the coming events that will be sponsored by the WWMBA of interest to local and area bowlers and non-bowlers include the men's annual meeting scheduled for 11 a.m. Sat., April 20 at the Oddfellows Hall, 32975 Glenwood (near Venoy) in Westland.

Entry blanks for the annual men's tournament are currently available at area bowling centers. The tournament will be conducted in early May and of particular interest are some special prize trips to Las Vegas and Toronto, in addition to the regular prize list.

Also available are entry blanks for the Youth Scholarship Tournament that will be staged in early May. This event gives local youngsters the opportunity of sharing in a total of $3,000 in scholarship funds based on their bowling skills.

Coming attraction for June 8 is the premier event of the season, the annual WWMBA

By Jim Wrublewski

Awards Dinner Dance. This, in my opinion, has to be the best entertainment bargain in the area at $27 per couple which includes buffet dinner, dancing to the sounds of the Silvertones, door prizes and drinks.

Tickets for the banquet are available from any Board of Director member.

As long as we are on the topic of premier events, there is one person who has already had one and that's Bob Pniewski. Bob rolled his first 300 games recently and I had the mixed blessing of both witnessing and being beaten in his stellar performance. There can be no doubt that Pniewski's efforts were a true shot at perfection as he put 12 straight balls in the 1-3 pocket. He also had games of 228 and 33 for a grand total of 761.

The Western Wayne Youth Traveling Classic is being paced by Tom Henig with 256 and 656; Kim Billings, tops for the girls high game at 254; and Chris Winters holds series honors with 581. Additional notable efforts in this loop include Scott Pennington with 241 and 623; Rick Robak had 238, and Michelle Denomme had her first 200 plus game, a 212.

In other Youth League action: Phil Koeller fired a 212, 233 for a 625 series; Tim Tatum had 233 for 608; Dave Aro carded a 232; Annette Javello rolled a 210; Rich Trullaro totalled 668 on games of 247 and 244; Darren Clarke hit 269; Mike Spaven rolled a 663 series with games of 225-212-226 while Tracy Lewis rolled 221 and 201 for 596.

Action in the Ladies League included Marge Brothers at 685 on games of 257 and 238; Carol Post with 236 and 200; Marilyn Bourgoin had 234 and 200; and Kathy Sylvestor rolled 203 and 199 for a 588 series.

Men's high scoring included Frank Messina going 100 pins over average with a 267 game; Ed Swartzenberger was consistently over his 153 average on games of 220-205 and 203 for a 628 total; Joe Kolik hit 279; Mike Haor had a 278; Steve Hubble totalled 730 with a 279 game; Stan Grieb rolled a 286 game; Ernie Gazdag hit 276; Ardo Apigian had a 279; and Tony Charawskas recorded a 265 game to wrap up the action at this time.

the American League. Five of his eight homers and 29 of his 53 RBI's also came on the road.

Despite platooning with Motley and a healthy Jones, Sheridan got his share of playing time. "Last year I didn't mind it (platooning) because I still got a lot of playing time. This year I may not get as much, but there are still a lot more right-handers than left-handers. So I'll get to play," said Sheridan, who last year recorded nine hitting streaks of five games or more.

Just making it to the major league level had to seem impossible at first. He had been drafted by the Cincinnati Reds in June of 1976, but decided not to sign, preferring to play baseball at Eastern Michigan University. For his first three seasons he batted over .300. After his junior year he was selected by Kansas City in the third round of the 1979 June free agent draft. The time was right to turn professional.

"College helped a lot. Some guys sign right out of high school while they're still young. The level of baseball we play was equivalent to A or AA and I still got an education," he said.

He began his climb up the minor league ladder with the Class A team in Fort Meyers of the Florida State League hitting .281.

In 1980 he posted a .405 average and earned a promotion to the Class AA club, then in Jacksonville of the Southern League. There he batted .305, good enough for fifth in the league. He had good reason to expect good things in 1981.

But as happens with many athletes a freak accident meant a month on the disabled list. He slipped while carrying a load of laundry down basement stairs and injured an elbow. Despite missing a month he posted a still solid .298. It was a hamstring pull which plagued him the next year. Fighting for a spot on the roster in 1982, he pulled the hamstring in spring training and began the year in Omaha. The first day of the regular season he aggravated the injury and missed the next 10 games.

He came back and played one game and reinjured it in the first inning of the next game trying to beat out an infield grounder. This time it meant two months on the disabled list.

"I wanted to get back in there and play," Sheridan emphaseeing a healthy and relaxed Pat Sheridan.

This March it was other guys like rookies Dave Leeper and Mike Brewer fighting for that spot on the roster.

"I've started slow this spring, but things have been going great recently. There's not as much pressure this year. I don't have to look over my shoulder and see who's watching me every minute. It's a completely different situation when you know you're going to make the team," he said. "I've proved that I can hit. And as long as I keep producing I know I'll play."

'Coach of the Year' Romulus' Schimming earns honors

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

There is a renaissance going on in Romulus thanks to a dedicated coach by the name of Wayne Schimming who has brought the high school wrestling program back to life.

The 40-year-old Schimming coached the Eagles to a 12-2 record and has earned the respect of his peers as "one of the best in the field".

He has also earned the Associated Newspapers' 'Coach of the Year' award.

"Wrestling," notes Schimming, "is one of the toughest sports to compete in because it demands a lot of discipline of mind and body. When you are out on the mat facing your opponent you know in mind and body if you're ready for the test."

"If you aren't, it is made obvious very quickly," he

Chinese cagers are coming

Schoolcraft College will play the role of host for an international basketball classic which will feature the appearance of a People's Republic of China Junior Men's Team.

The Chinese will take on the Michigan AAU Junior Men's Club in a game scheduled for 8 p.m., Wed., May 1 at the Schoolcraft College gym, located at Haggerty Road, between 6 and 7 Mile Roads in Livonia.

In a preliminary game set for 5:30 p.m., the Suburban AAU junior cagers will play their counterparts from Detroit.

Tickets are $5 for adults and students (advance sales), while fans will pay $6 at the door.

This is the first appearance of a Chinese basketball team in the area in recent years.

Now you know someone who can get you great seats.

If you don't have a best friend whose uncle's sister's father-in-law can get you great seats, now you know someone who can. In fact, you know a lot of people who can get you great seats: Your AAA ticket sales agents. They'll get you the best available tickets to your favorite theme parks, concerts, plays, and sporting events. And that includes tickets to all Tiger home games. And since AAA tickets are sold through a computerized system, you'll be able to get them immediately, at all 56 AAA branch offices and all Metro Detroit J.C. Penney stores.

AAA accepts cash, VISA and Mastercard, and at J.C. Penney, you can also use your J.C. Penney charge. And remember, you don't have to be a AAA member to get tickets through AAA. So the next time you need tickets, see your AAA ticket sales agents. They're the only ones you need to know to get great seats.

WORKER'S COMPENSATION and Many Others

ON-THE-JOB INJURIES

The most common occupational injury is sacroiliac strain. It occurs when the sacrum or tailbone slips from its normal position in relationship to the bones of the pelvis. There is extensive muscular and ligamentous strain. The pain is excruciating and movement of the legs is restricted. Often the sciatic nerve becomes involved which produces even greater disability.

A person suffering from sacroiliac strain assumes a bent forward position. Any attempt to stand tall results in a sharp and stinging pain. This type of strain is serious. If unattended a sacroiliac strain can lead to chronic weakness of the region.

Almost as common as sacroiliac strain is spinal strain, or what we often call a "wrenched back". This injury results from improper lifting, straining when pushing heavy objects and poor working posture. It can be felt anywhere along the spine. There may be an injury to one or more vertebrae. If the strain occurs in the upper back, shoulders and arms may become involved. There is muscular tension and soreness. Any type of motion causes increased pain and all positions, whether sitting, standing or lying, may be uncomfortable.

If you are a working man or woman, an occupational injury could place a great financial, emotional, and physical burden on you and your family. It is your right as an employee to be protected as much as possible in such a case. It is for this reason that Worker's Compensation laws have been enacted in every state. Their intent is to assure the injured worker the best care available.

Specific terms vary from state to state, but in general this means you are entitled to complete coverage of health care expenses incurred due to an injury, and partial or complete compensation for loss of wages.

If you are injured your most important consideration will be the type of care you choose, since this will probably determine how much pain and anxiety you will have to suffer, and for how long.

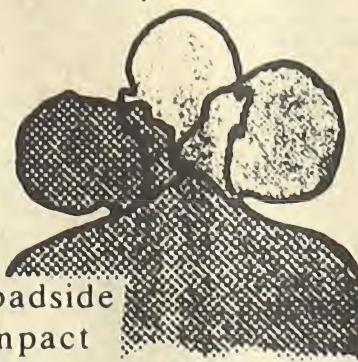

An important provision of Worker's Compensation which is often overlooked is the right to select the doctor and type of treatment which best suits your condition.

Spinal and sacroiliac strain are only two of the disabling conditions a worker may suffer with as a result of an on the job injury. But since back injuries account for one-tenth of the total time loss injuries in industry, it is the area which deserves attention. And it is in this area in which chiropractic can achieve great success. Chiropractic attention will quickly reveal the involved vertebrae and corrective adjustments will bring about a quick relief of the symptoms and a rapid correction of the disorder.

If you or one of your loved ones are hurt on the job, consult our Chiropractic Life Center immediately. Modern scientific chiropractic procedures reduce suffering, time loss and the possibility of permanent serious injury.

AUTO ACCIDENT VICTIMS

Neck and spinal injuries, as a result of automobile accidents, are among the fastest growing health problems in the country today. The ever increasing number of automobiles on our crowded highways provide the ideal opportunity for the type of accident that results in sudden impact injuries.

Whiplash is the most frequent result of the sudden impact injury. The victim experiences severe headaches, shoulder pain, neuralgia of the neck and many other symptoms which are seemingly unrelated. When the head and neck are violently thrown forward and then backward, one or more vertebrae in the spine can slip out of normal position, interfering with the transmission of vital nerve energy.

Another common injury occurs when a person is thrown from the seat to the floor of a car, or against the car door. The sudden impact will be to the lower spine and, if the shock is great, vertebrae in this area will become dislocated. The symptoms of such an injury can include severe back pain, bladder disturbances, kidney disorders and menstrual distress among others.

As a result of any sudden impact injury, there may be sharp impingement of the nerves and consequent ill effects upon the victim's general health.

With modern scientific methods, we can quickly locate the vertebral injury. Then, with scientific and corrective spinal adjustments, we can realign the vertebrae involved. Even a minor spinal injury can result in an unlimited variety of distressing and painful effects. Many disabling conditions occur years after an automobile accident, but can be traced back to the sudden impact injury.

Our Chiropractic office specializes in treating sudden impact injuries. See us immediately after any type of accidental injury.

'God' coming to stage

Woody Allen's "God" will be presented on stage by the Spotlight Players at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and April 26 and 27 at the John Glenn Auditorium, 36105 Marquette.

Westland residents in the cast are Russell Holderness, Daniel Booth, Vicki Cravens, Patti Jones, Bob Walker, J.R.

Vicki Cravens (left), Daniel Booth and Russ Holderness share an emotional moment in the Spotlight Players' performance of Woody Allen's "God."

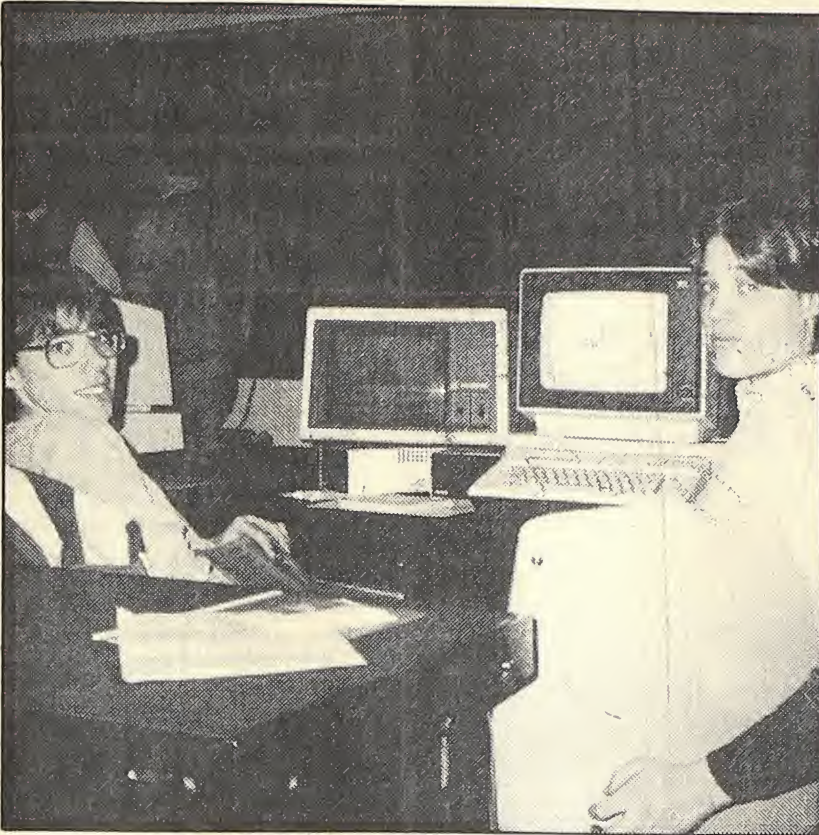

Talaska, Carla Lenhoff, Jeff Talaska, Lorraine Parent, John Talaska, Helen DeJulio, Mary Jo Cobello, Pam Fisher, Kim Capen, Betsy Dyke, and Deann Fletcher.

Rounding out the cast are Wayne residents Floyd Guernsey, Jesse James III, Michael Swain and Miranda Morillo; David Rago and Annette Aben, Canton; Ben Kemp and Diann Kemp, Belleville; John Eastman and Brian Barnum, Livonia, and Cheryl Klopshinske, Southfield.

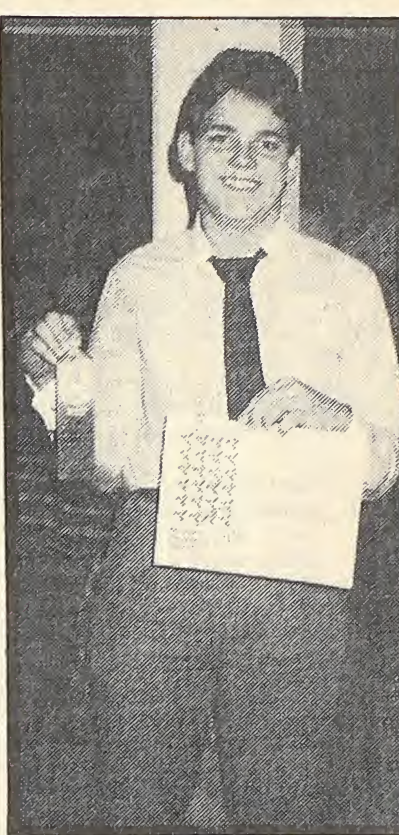

Michael W. Swain will direct the play and also will serve as set designer. Mary Jo Cobello will co-direct the performances, which will be produced by Mary Cobello and Nancy Mounsey.

Others on the production staff include Debra Polich Swain, costume designer; Jeff James, lighting designer; David Carrick, special effects; Cheryl Klopshinske, make-up designer; Jeff James and Gail Mack, sound engineers; Nancy Mounsey, stage manager and ticket chairperson, and Mary Cobello, publicity chairperson.

Tickets, priced at $4.50 for adults and $3.50 for students and seniors, will be available at the door. Further information can be obtained by calling 729-6453 or 595-6117.

Jim Miller of Westland takes second place.

Robert Shady of Canton

Students win awards

Three local students have been selected winners in Com-Test '85, a computer programming contest that provides students from southeast Michigan an opportunity to create micro-computer programs in various categories.

Taking first place in the junior division for grades seven thru nine was Robert Shady of Canton, who captured top honors in the entertainment classification. Jim Miller of Westland shared second place in the education and training segment in the junior division and Eric Busch of Inkster received an award for his contributions in sound.

The computer programs of the top 18 students will be displayed on April 20 and 21 at the Michigan Technology Council Tech Fair at the University of Michigan Track and Tennis Building.

Shady, a ninth grader at Lowell Middle School, has been programming for approximately three years. He received a $100 award for his top entry, entitled "Master Draw."

First and second-place winners received cash prizes and ribbons. Experts from business, industry and education screened the programs of 42 finalists who demonstrated their programs recently at the University of Michigan.

'Curtain Going Up'

Cherry Hill High School performers will offer their version of "Curtain Going Up," a three-act comedy by Gregory Johnston, at 8 p.m. April 26 and 27 in the Truman Auditorium of Cherry Hill High, 28500 Avondale, Inkster.

In "Curtain Going Up" Miss Burgess, the pretty new teacher at Riverview High, attempts to stage her first production and finds to her dismay: two teachers plotting her downfall, a leading woman with boyfriend problems, a leading man who can't remember how to get on and off the stage and a thief causing disruption and disaster. She also finds herself in the middle of a love triangle she hadn't planned on.

Featured cast members are

Denise Venable as Miss Burgess, Renee Adams, Tom Blaylock, Tracie Palmer, Tony Bleau, Lana Vail, Chris Dsiadsz, Laura Edgington, Scottie Johnson, Michael McComble and Steve Hardoin.

Tickets are priced at $2 for adults, $1 for students and no charge for senior citizens and children under 12. Tickets purchased at the door are priced at $2.

Keyboard finalists to compete Friday

Five local keyboard performers are scheduled to compete in the area finals of the Yamaha Electone Festival at noon Friday at Stevenson High School, 33500 Six Mile in Livonia.

Alvin Borlaza of Canton and William Scherer of Inkster are among five finalists in the youth division; Dianna Osborne of Belleville will compete in the youth division II, and Bartley Paterson of Canton and Thomas Schendel of Belleville are among four finalists in the hobbyist division.

Keyboard players who win the division honors will be eligible to compete in the Northern Regional finals. Admission is free to the competition but tickets must be obtained in advance. Ticket information can be obtained by calling 427-0040.

dan's dogs

by dan a. morris

Dan Morris Copyright 1985

Editor's Note: Dan Morris has been a professional dog trainer for more than 20 years and has worked in all phases of dog training. If you have a specific problem, his advice is available by writing him care of Associated Newspapers Inc., P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Michigan 48184. He will reply in this column.

With the economy as it stands today, many dog owners consider breeding their dog for profit. The fact is, there is little profit in breeding even when selling a dog of high quality and pure blood line.

A reputable breeder does not breed for monetary gain, but to perfect a particular breed standard and many give away more puppies than sell, should the litter not meet required AKC standards. This does not mean they give away inferior puppies, but only that although some pups may not meet conformation requirements, they are healthy and make excellent pets. You should avoid the "backyard" breeder. That definition is given to anyone overbreeding their dog strictly to make money. Health and breed quality are not considered important . . . to them!

For those who are intent upon breeding, let's see what is required to produce a healthy, sellable litter. The female should be at least 18 months old, in good health and have a solid temperament. The dogs being bred should have been X-rayed to determine if they are displastic - having bad hip joints. If the X-rays show positive for either dog, breeding should not take place.

Remember, with a successful breeding and delivery, it will be your responsibility to take care of the mother as well as the puppies. When the litter reaches weaning time and the mother rejects her puppies, not allowing them to nurse, it will be up to you to feed them. Another expense to be considered is the cost of inoculating each puppy for prevention of Distemper, Canine Hepatitis, Leptospirosis and Parvo Virus. The litter will have to be wormed and, for some breeds, tails docked and dew claws removed. Your total expenditure per pup should approximate $50 to $100.

If you fail to sell the puppies when they reach eight weeks of age, you will have to maintain their health and eventually decide what to do with them. Usually, the puppies are given away.

The cost of a German shepherd 15 to 20 years ago was $150. Today, it is not uncommon to pay much more for a purebred dog. This is the exception, not the rule, and the average breeder will never realize much profit per puppy, since each and every dog may not be "show" quality. Again, the reputable breeder is only interested in perfecting the breed and not in making money.

Before purchasing a dog, consult a veterinarian as well as a breeder. They should give you enough information to make a logical selection. The price of the dog does not include a life-long guarantee. If anything happens to the dog the new owner should not blame the breeder, for all breeders recommend you take your puppy to the veterinarian to ensure you have purchased a good dog. The breeder has done his best to produce a sound, healthy litter. The rest is up to you!

BPW visits Kelly & Co.

At the "crack of dawn" on March 21, 10 bright-eyed members of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club drove to Southfield to see the live Kelly and Company TV talk show on Channel 7.

Seeing a live TV show was a first for many of the BPW women. It was a fast moving, colorful and happy event.

Yes, Marilyn Turner has blue, blue eyes, and John Kelly is good looking with a fair-sized ego.

Guests on the TV show were Katherine Helmond, actress, who is appearing on the new TV program "Who's the Boss." This program airs on Tuesdays at 8:30 p.m., Channel 7.

Dr. Sanford Siegel, doctor and author, was promoting his new weight loss book, entitled "Hunger Control without Drugs."

Roger Callahan exhibited his method of cure for people with phobias. Three young women accompanied him, with fears of heights, snakes and public speaking. After treating the fear-filled women, his results were rather favorable.

The final guest was singer and dancer of long standing, Ken Berry, who was on TV with Carol Burnett, in sit-com program, "Maybury R.F.D.", and was with the Horace Heidt Orchestra for many years. Berry was appearing at the Birmingham Theatre, in the English comedy, "Run for Your Wife."

Following the TV program, lunch was served at the Tel-Twelve Shopping Mall which rounded out the day.

BPW members attending were Sophie and Pamela Zoller, Sharon Collins, Laverne Finley, Stephanie Malizia, Ruth Davis, Aldine Potter, Marie Roberts, Vira McGrane and Midge Artley.

You know it's spring when you: put the scraper back in the trunk; put away the blower and pull out the mower, get a copy of our Home, Lawn and Garden edition in your local newspaper. The how-to's about lawn care and better gardening are coming your way next week. Any questions you may have that are not covered by our editorial staff can be expertly answered for you by the many advertisers featured inside. So give them a call and good growing!

Your Spartan labels help support Special Olympics. Every label is worth five cents now through May 30th. So when shopping at Bilmar's Market in downtown Romulus, remember to look for the Spartan labels. Return them to the store and five cents for each label will be donated to the Special Olympics by Spartan. Many Spartan items are on sale this week!

This really takes the cake! . . . and the pies, donuts, cookies, snacks, etc. You'll find all this and more at surprisingly low prices at the Wonder Hostess Bakery store in Romulus. It's a bakery-direct outlet, which explains the low prices and super fresh taste. It's located at 35780 Goddard in Romulus.

Who came to Canton? The Yazaki Corporation, a multinational producer of electrical automotive wiring systems has broken ground for their national headquarters on the corner of Haggerty and Warren Roads. Gov. Blanchard was on hand last week to welcome the business which has a tentative completion date scheduled for next summer.

If you made the picture, you should make the frame! How? The Frame Works II on Ford and Sheldon in Canton will show you how to custom make your own frame right in the store. Save a lot of money on labor cost by framing it yourself, and still receive the full assistance that you'll need.

The new Hawthorne Valley, formerly the Willow Bridge Recreation and Entertainment Center in Westland, has almost completed renovations of the multi-use facility. The newly decorated banquet rooms will serve more than 300 people. Keep an eye open for the opening of their new restaurant. It promises to be one of the finest area evening eateries although the name of the new restaurant has not yet been decided upon. The new Hawthorne Valley is located at 7300 N. Merriman Road.

Speaking of great places to eat—everybody ought to head up to Jalapeno Pete's & Pasta in Westland at least once. Plan on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday night between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. Not only can you dine on great tasting Mexican or Italian dishes, you will be serenaded at tablesides by the Mariachi Singers. The effect is truly charming and you'll both have a great time.

Wyandotte Savings announces promotions

In promotions announced recently by Wyandotte Savings Bank, William L. Blackson, senior vice-president and comptroller, has been appointed to the position of chief operations and fiscal group head. Henry C. Marquardt, senior vice-president, was also named senior trust officer; Stephen T. Orr, assistant trust officer and compliance officer, was appointed trust officer and head of trust operations; and Helen M.

Poniatowski, administrative assistant, was named advertising and public relations manager.

Blackson is a graduate of Detroit Commercial College, the American Institute of Banking, and the NABAC School of Banking University of Wisconsin.

Marquardt was awarded a bachelor's degree in business administration at the Detroit Institute of Technology and received a graduate certificate from the American Institute of Banking.

Orr was appointed to the Board of Directors of Wyandotte Savings Bank in 1979. He joined the bank as a staff member in 1983 as assistant trust officer and compliance officer.

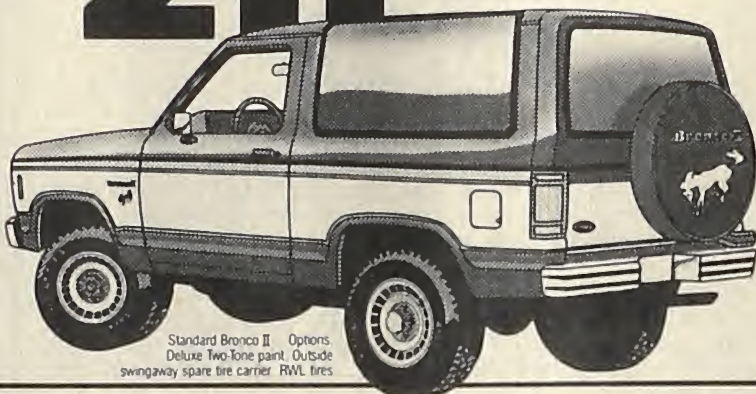

Poniatowski joined the WSB staff in 1976, as a secretary in the administration area. She was promoted to administrative assistant in 1980.

Poniatowski earned the rating of Certified Professional Secretary (CPS) in 1979, and was selected Downriver Secretary of the Year in 1980.

Wyandotte Savings Bank, established in 1871, has been serving the Downriver area for well over a century. The bank presently has 15 offices and offers 24-hour banking convenience at six locations via Omni-Banker 24.
